

To Whom:

I recently consulted with Ms. Seahorn for an upcoming sex offense trial, and I cannot recommend her services more highly.

Even though I have over 20 years and 200 trials worth of experience, her advice and recommendations have been invaluable, and has provided me a fresh perspective on how to prepare more effectively.

Ms. Seahorn takes an expert and experienced approach, and takes care to develop the subtle and nuanced details that we often miss—and that's where I believe that is where her true value as a consultant lies. She gently challenged some of my thinking, while offering alternative solutions to some of my dilemmas.

Ms. Seahorn and I developed an ongoing relationship, and am impressed with her continued interest in my case developments. We talk fairly regularly, and she is more akin to a trial partner than a consultant.

I will not hesitate to use her services, and you shouldn't, either.

Sincerely,
